

WELCOME PARTY

SEPTEMBER 1%, 2009

Let it Bee Farm

Celebrate Art in Nature

Reflect on the quadricentennial from the riverview homestead of John Draper, the scientist who created the first photo of the moon in 1840. Our hosts, author Christine Lehner and partner apiarist Charles Branch, record another happy confluence of science and art cultivating fine organic honey right here on these Hudson shores. (Visitors may be assured that the hives are sequestered at the far end of the meadow.)

WELCOME. Begin the new season with RiverArts!
